

Salvation Army raises $90,000 from awards luncheon

Submitted by Paul McKibben

Tuesday, November 26th, 2013, 1:30pm

Topics: Community Spirit, News, People

Share on printPrintShare on emailE-mail

Maj. Hugh Steele and Matt Pearce of the Salvation Army presenting the 'Others' Award to Katie Blackburn, who accepted the award on behalf of the Cincinnati Bengals. Provided by the Salvation Army.

DOWNTOWN (FOX19) -- The Salvation Army announced today it raised $90,000 from its Annual Civic & Awards Luncheon, marking the 57th anniversary for this event.

The event was Nov. 19 at Paul Brown Stadium, marking a change in venue for the event and hosted approximately 450 guests in the stadium's East Club Lounge.

Highlights of the luncheon included the presentation of The Salvation Army "Others" Award to the Cincinnati Bengals and the "Community Partner" Award to Turner Construction.

Katie Blackburn of the Bengals accepted the award on behalf of the organization, which was honored for its community service not only with the Salvation Army but through many other nonprofit agencies.

Brian Mooney, general manager of Turner Construction, accepted the award on behalf of the company, which has a decades-long history of support to the local Salvation Army, including both financial and volunteer contributions.

Special guests included the Children's Choir from Liberty Bible Academy in Mason.

Copyright 2013 WXIX. All rights reserved.

Matt Pearce, left, and Maj. Hugh Steele, right, both of The Salvation Army, present the Community Partner Award to Brian Mooney, center, who accepted the award on behalf of Turner Construction. Provided by the Salvation Army

Carl Satterwhite, president of RCF Group, who shared a personal story of the Salvation Army's impact on his life, at the Salvation Army's 57th Annual Civic & Awards Luncheon Nov. 19 at Paul Brown Stadium. Provided by the Salvation Army.